Clay Burman Named President of ISM-Nevada

Clay Burman, Corporate Purchasing Manager for Brady Industries, has been named President of the Institute for Supply Management-Nevada effective immediately. Clay has served the organization the past few years, and was elected Vice President in February 2015.

Founded in 1915, the Institute for Supply Management (ISM) was the first supply management institute in the world. Throughout the past 100 years, ISM has served and guided the supply management profession within the global marketplace. ISM is considered to be a highly influential and respected association, providing industry professionals and organizations with extensive education, research, publications and highly regarded certifications.

With more than 45,000 active members worldwide, ISM is the largest global organization dedicated to advancing the practice of procurement and supply management. ISM is the leader in supply chain, driving value to its members with its two widely renowned certifications, the Report on Business, countless educational resources and extensive networking events around the globe.
